

ACCOUNT INTELLIGENCE ENGINE

Health benefit insights for actionable recommendations

With U.S. healthcare spending estimated to grow more than 20% in the next four years,[†] employers need a complete understanding of their employees' healthcare experience to make impactful changes. Whyzen Analytics, a state-of-the-art employer analytics and reporting solution developed by Blue Health Intelligence® (BHI®), provides health plans, brokers, and consultants with near real-time cost, utilization, population health, and quality metrics.

WHYZEN ANALYTIC'S DIFFERENTIATED VALUE EQUATION:
The Best Data* + Powerful Analytics + Limitless Exploration = MEANINGFUL Decisions

DELIVERING A HOLISTIC VIEW OF HEALTHCARE UTILIZATION

Whyzen Analytics makes it easy to:

Take Meaningful and Swift Action

Use data-driven insights to:

- Identify cost-reduction strategies
- Direct care to higher-performing providers
- Optimize plan designs

Test Theories and Respond

Use our state-of-the-art technology to:

- Discover, describe, and share insights quickly
- Run multiple "what-if" scenarios to see how certain variables can influence outcomes
- Drill into data to find root causes of overutilization and other issues

See the Big Picture

View all cost and utilization details by:

- Health insurance product type (e.g., HMO, PPO)
- Benefits (e.g., medical, vision, dental, and behavioral health)

Compare and Improve Performance

Using BHI's National Data Repository, executives can:

- Accurately predict events, such as avoidable emergency room visits
- Conduct meaningful exposure analyses, like the cost impacts of new drugs

Whyzen Analytics offers graphically-rich interactive dashboards and secure, on-demand analytics via dedicated and mobile platforms.

PROVEN EMPLOYER ANALYTICS AND REPORTING CAPABILITIES

Backed by decades of experience in delivering complex analytic solutions, the BHI development and delivery team is unmatched. Our business leaders, data scientists, technologists, clinicians, and analytic experts have earned a national reputation for successfully collaborating with hundreds of customers to provide employer intelligence using Whyzen Analytics.

Health plans and employers can spend more time on what matters most – understanding cost, use, and outcomes trends – to implement data-driven improvements to health benefits.

FOSTER CONSULTATIVE RELATIONSHIPS

Whyzen Analytics frees up report development and processing time so that executives can:

- Develop and implement recommendations
- Provide greater transparency
- Monitor progress
- Strengthen customer relationships

PREVENT PROGRESSION TO HIGHER COSTS

To address key cost drivers, such as specialty pharmaceuticals and genetic testing, Whyzen Analytics enables administrators to:

- Predict high-cost members
- Recommend realistic actions – like targeted case management (CM) – to mitigate progression to even higher costs
- Ease data sharing with external stakeholders on things like the value of disease management programs

SOLVE ISSUES BEFORE THEY ESCALATE

With Whyzen Analytics' automated reporting that generates insights quickly, leaders can:

- Address underlying problems before they escalate
- Recommend benefit design changes or the use of more effective services
- Spot outliers and track variations from national, regional, and organizational benchmarks

“Whyzen Analytics has made our organization nimbler and we’re better equipped to anticipate customer needs. Our reporting and consulting teams went from using a rowboat to a speedboat.”
